

A NEW BANK

Merger of Franklin
And Peoples.

Capital $250,000 and a Surplus of $50,000.

BANK STARTS IN THE SPRING

W. A. Robbins to be President—Reasons Given For Combination of Interests.

The Franklin and Peoples banks are about to be merged into a Franklin National bank with a capital of $250,000 and surplus of $50,000 paid in, making one of the biggest and strongest banks in this part of Ohio. W. A. Robbins will be president of the new bank.
Each bank will take care of its present business until April 1,
when the new bank will take over the business of both institutions.
This statement was authoritatively made Saturday afternoon.

The Advocate received a telegram
Saturday noon from Washington, D. C., announcing that an application for a charter for the Franklin National Bank of Newark, Ohio, had been received, and that while a charter has not as yet been granted, the application for authority to organize said bank has been duly approved.

The incorporators of the new bank
are W. A. Robbins, M. Q. Baker, A. H.
Heisey, Harry Swisher, John J.
Carroll and Wm. L. Prout.
This dispatch means an important change in the financial institutions of Newark. It means the consolidation of two of the strongest banks in Newark, a merger of the old Franklin Bank, the oldest banking house in Newark, having been established away back in 1845, with the Peoples National Bank which has been doing a very successful business in Newark
since the year 1885.

More than a year ago there was talk of a combination of these two banking houses, but the proposition was finally abandoned, only to be taken up again after the death of Mr.
Benjamin Franklin, president of the Peoples Bank.

Representatives of each of the banks met and a merger was agreed upon by the two boards of directors.
The application for a charter for a new bank to be known as the Franklin National Bank was then sent to Washington and a dispatch to the Advocate Saturday noon announces that the Comptroller of the currency has approved the application. The charter will be granted within a few days at the latest.

By the terms of agreement between the two banks, Mr. Willis A. Robbins, cashier of the Franklin bank, will become president of the new organization, but the name of the cashier of the new bank is not as yet announced.
The board of directors will consist of twelve men, among them some of the wealthiest and most substantial business men of Newark.

The capital stock of the new bank
will be $250,000—a quarter of a million dollars—fully paid together with a surplus of $50,000 paid in cash the day
the new bank starts business.

The new bank will be located in the rooms occupied by the Peoples National Bank, but new furniture will be put in the room and it will be fitted up as a modern banking house.
The new Franklin National Bank
will begin business on or about April 1, 1905.

WING'S SUCCESSOR

SIGNS AT PRESENT POINT TO MR.
ROBERT W. TAYLOR.

President is Expected to Make the Appointment Next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—In the silent struggle over the Federal Judgeship of the Northern Ohio District, which is to be vacated by Francis J. Wing, the former Newark man, a month hence, the stock of ex-Representative Robert W. Taylor of Lisbon, has taken an upward jump and the signs point more directly than ever to his appointment. Senator Foraker, who is urging his selection, and Representative T. E. Burton of Cleveland, who is also favorable to him, are confident the former Congressman from the old McKinley district will get the plum. Mr. Taylor himself is strongly of the same opinion, and that is the general impression among those who are following the situation closely.
It is now anticipated that the President will announce his decision
next Tuesday or Wednesday. Congress reassembles on January 4, and the nomination probably will be transmitted to the Senate on that day.

There seems to be no reason to doubt that Judge John H. Doyle of Toledo, has been distanced in the race
by the former Eighteenth District Representative despite the fact that he had the powerful backing of Secretary of War Taft. According to a strictly confidential source, Mr. Taylor's case against Judge Doyle is that the latter is counsel for the Standard Oil company and large railroad interests. This, of course, is no reflection upon the personal fitness of the Toledo lawyer, but his appointment, in the President's opinion,
might cause some adverse comment.
It is asserted, moreover, that Mr.
Doyle is really an aspirant for the Judgeship even though he declined the proffer of President McKinley four years ago.

Mr. Taylor has the advantage of Judge Doyle in the matter of age, being 52 years as against the 60 years of his rival. When he was 20 years of age he became a teacher in the high school at Lisbon and a year later was promoted to the Superintendency of schools there. In 1876 he edited the Buckeye State, a Lisbon newspaper, and in 1877 was admitted to the bar. He was elected prosecutor of the county of Columbiana in 1881, serving until 1886, and beginning in 1895 represented his district in Congress for eight years. In 1902 he retired voluntarily to devote himself exclusively to the practice of law.
John J. Sullivan, United States Attorney for the Northern Ohio District, is a brother-in-law of Mr. Taylor.

FOR WIFE BEATERS

Whipping Post Recommended in the District of Columbia by the Grand Jury.

Washington, Dec. 31.—The local grand jury in making its final report for the present term of the supreme court for the district of Columbia recommended the establishment of the whipping post in the district. The question has been considerably agitated ever since the president in his last annual message recommended corporal punishment for wife beaters
in the District of Columbia. A recommendation that persons about to be married produce evidence of freedom from certain diseases also is made.

Father is Accused of the Murder of
Two Women but Boy Implicates Himself.

Newport, Ark., Dec. 31.—Before the coroner's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Amelia Mauldin, Newton Allwhite, a 19-year-old boy, confessed to being a party to the outrage and murder of the woman and her mother, whose body, he says, was thrown into White river near the scene of the crime, on the Jacksonport road. The boy implicates his father, Louis All-white, 43, who, he says, first shot the girl and then the mother. He declares he was told by his parent to fire the second shot, which killed the young woman, and together they carried Mrs.
Kinkannon's body to the river and were returning to the scene of the crime to make similar disposal of the other body when some people were seen coming down the road. The elder Allwhite maintains his innocence and together with relatives, testified to a story implicating Arthur Bunch and Walter Burgess, white farmers, but these men were able to prove alibis.

CAUSED BY GALE

High Tide Produces Serious Floods in London—The Highest Tide in Many Years.

London, Dec. 31.—The gale resulted in an abnormally high tide on the eastern coast of England and in the Thames and estuary, producing serious floods in the low lying parts of London, where hundreds of warehouses and residences were inundated and serious damage was done. It was the highest tide at London for many years, the water almost oversweeping
the Thames embankment and the steps of Cleopatra's needle being covered.

killed last night. Hemphill, while intoxicated started for town. His wife endeavored to induce him to return

TWO BANKERS

Are Arrested at Conneaut by Federal Officers

CHARGE MAKING FALSE ENTRY

Cashier Lillie and President Traver of First National Bank are the Accused.

Cleveland, Dec. 31.—United States
Marshal Chandler placed under arrest Cashier O. C. Lillie and President C. M. Traver of the First National bank of Conneaut, O., upon a warrant charging the bankers with a violation of the national banking laws. The specific charge in Mr. Lillie's case is the making of a false entry in the books of the bank, changing the sum of $233,605 to read $233-605. Mr. Traver is charged in the warrant with being an accomplice of the cashier in the alleged falsification.
Deputy United States marshals brought Cashier Lillie to the federal court here, where he waived preliminary examination and gave bail of $10,000 for his appearance in court early next February. He was accompanied to court by his wife and four-year-old daughter. President Traver, in charge of a deputy marshal, arrived later from Conneaut. He was immediately brought before the United States commissioner, where he waived preliminary hearing and gave bail in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance
at the February term of court.

The First National bank of Conneaut closed its doors nearly two weeks ago, after a run upon it the preceding day. The bank has a capital stock of $50,000. The cause of the run, the bankers said at the time,
was that the report had gained currency that Mrs. Chadwick had succeeded in securing large loans from
it. The bank officials deny holding any Chadwick paper.

MRS. CHADWICK

Insanity May be Defense—
She is Examined by Dr. Eyman.

Cleveland, Dec. 31.—Bertillon measurements were taken of Mrs. Chadwick by a government service expert. The purpose of the system is the identification of criminals. When Mrs. Devere was arrested in Lucas county 15 years ago she was subjected to the measurements, and those records are on file. The present measurements of Mrs. Chadwick will be compared with Devere's. Alienist Aldrich again called at the county jail to see Mrs.
Chadwick, but upon instructions issued by United States Marshal Chandler he was refused admittance. Dr.
Aldrich stated that he was making a study of Mrs. Chadwick upon the request of her counsel, J. P. Dawley.
Several matters developed in the Chadwick case that seem to indicate insanity as her almost certain line of defense. It was learned that Dr. H.
C. Eyman, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital for the insane, has made an examination of the woman. Dr. Eyman's visit was kept secret.

BAIL IS OFFERED

For Nan Patterson's Release by Ac-

the Tombs.

New York Dec. 31.—May Irwin the actress, has offered to furnish bail in any amount up to $50,000 for the release of Nan Patterson from the Tombs prison, where she is now held charged with the murder of Caesar Rogers, according to an announcement made by Miss Patterson's counsel.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Fire in a build-

Works, this morning gutted the structure and spread to two buildings adjoining owned by the Cash Buyers
Union and the Zeno Gun company.
Six cottages tenanted by working men were also destroyed and two occupants had narrow escapes. The walls of the factory, Cash Buyers Union building fell and crushed the houses. Six firemen were injured, two being badly hurt and were taken to a hospital.
Loss $621,000.

Japs Stay Out Fearing Mines—Island-

the War.

London, Dec. 31.—A telegram from Chefoo today announces that a heavy storm at Port Arthur has resulted the destruction of the Russian battleship Sevastopol. The other damaged Russian warships also suffered severely.

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 31.—The British warship Cadmus and Torch sailed under sealed orders today. It is believed they are going to Marshall Island.

Chefoo, Dec. 31.—A messenger from Port Arthur states that the Japanese have mounted eight guns commanding positions north of the Etse forts, but they suffered heavy losses by the Russian fire. "The Russians have abandoned the new town, but the Japanese have been unable to occupy it, because of fear that it has been mined."

St. Petersburg, Dec. 31.—The war office absolutely denies the report in circulation to the effect that General Kuropatkin is ill. The rumors that the Russian commander-in-chief is about to assume the offensive are not confirmed by the general staff, when it is pointed out, that with the thermometer at zero Fahrenheit, it is impossible to begin a movement on a large scale without the risk of apalling horrors.

A report that the cruisers Orel and Izumrud of the Second Pacific squadron, have been ordered to return is current here, but lacks official confirmation. If the report should prove true, Vice Admiral Rojestvensky may be expected to await reinforcements
from the Third Pacific squadron.

Rumors current at home and abroad
that Admiral Kaznakoff's retirement from the international commission of inquiry into the North sea incident is due to Captain Clado's loquacity in Paris, are denied both at the admiralty and the foreign office, where it is said the aged admiral's recall is due entirely to the condition of his health.
It is also intimated that Admiral Baron Von Spaun of the Austrian navy, the fifth member of the commission, may also retire because his health cannot support the strain. The appointment of Vice Admiral Doubassoff to succeed Admiral Kaznakoff on the commission is regarded as certain.

OLDEST JUDGE

Appointed by Lincoln After He Made Speech Against Secession in Washington.

Washington, Dec. 31.—Senator Elk-ins of West Virginia, presented to the president, John F. Jackson, the oldest judge in the federal judiciary. Judge Jackson presides over the United States district court for the northern district of West Virginia. He is 80 years old and was appointed district judge by President Lincoln 44 years ago. He was a member of the old Virginia legislature in war times and delivered a notable speech in opposition to secession. President Lincoln sent for him, congratulated him on the stand he had taken for the union, and subsequently appointed him to the federal bench. President Roosevelt and Judge Jackson had a pleasant and interesting conversation.

FAMILY POISONED

Vermont Woman While Temporarily
Insane Put Poison in the Family's Food.

Moreysville, Vt., Dec. 31.—Mrs. Newell Ellsworth is dead, her husband critically ill and their 10-year-old son seriously sick as the result, according to Health Officer C. C. Rublee, of eating food in which poison had been placed by the mother during a temporary fit of insanity. Following the evening meal Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth and their son George were taken violently ill. Dr. G. L. Bates, who was summoned, found the family suffering from poison. Young Ellsworth responded readily to treatment and will recover, but the condition of his father and mother grew rapidly worse. The physicians state that Mrs.
Ellsworth has been mentally weak for some time and that on the day of the poisoning she was irresponsible.

INTERVIEWS WITH THE PEOPLE ON WATER WORKS QUESTION.

John C. Brennan.
I think the proper thing is to build new works unless the old plant could be bought low enough and the company will fix its price at once. The sale of the bonds was all right as it was the only thing that could be done to head off the Water Works company.

S. F. VanVoorhis.
We ought to purchase the old plant for what it is worth, and I should consider it in the interest of the Water Works company to sell it at a reasonable price; but if they will not do this we should proceed to build new works. I think the officials were rather premature in selling the bonds in the manner they did.

Thos. Africa (P. R. Conductor).
I think I said enough when I voted for the city to build a new plant and so did everybody else. What's the sense in all this talk about buying the old water works when the people voted by such a large majority to have new works. The bond sale was right and the will of the people should be carried into effect by all city officials.

J. H. Moore (Sec. C. B. & L. Assn.).
We ought to build new water works by all means. What's the sense in so many people talking about buying the old plant when the company doesn't seem to know enough to put a price on it? And what's the use in our having an election unless the will of the people is carried into effect? If any officials don't want to carry out the will of the people they ought to resign before sundown. And since I believe in carrying out the will of the people, I fully indorse the sale of the bonds. It won't hurt anybody except the Water Works company.

Ed Merrick (Painter, Paper Hanger).
I would favor buying the old plant if we can get it for what it is reasonably worth; but, O Lord, now must we wait for the Water Works company to state their price? I indorse the sale of the bonds, for while in my opinion, there was some irregularity about the transaction, still it was justifiable under all the circumstances.

Ignatius Seiler.
We should purchase the old plant according to the terms of the franchise. The vote of the people to build a new plant was a little rash. If we can not purchase at a reasonable price then let the company furnish free water for fire purposes and make the rates for private consumers to correspond with other cities as far as possible; and if we cannot make such a contract we should build a new plant before the present contract expires.

F. C. King (Real Estate Agt.).
It is the company's place to name the price for which they are willing to sell their plant, and if they give us a reasonable price we ought to purchase it. The bond sale doesn't suit me—don't consider it legal.

Ferd Mollenpach.
I am for new water works.

Dr. A. V. Davis.
I think it would be well to purchase the old plant if it can be had at the right price; but the company ought to name their price if they mean business.

W. J. Henderson.
The sale of the water works bonds was the best thing the city officials could have done—the best thing for themselves for the taxpayer and for the city generally. My experience as a practical plumber teaches me that the present water system is not suited to the needs of a city like Newark is today. The mains are too small for our needs, and too small to be built upon. Anyone who knows anything about iron pipe knows that it is not in first-class shape after 20 years use in the ground.

What right has the council, mayor, newspapers, or anybody else to talk of purchasing the old water works when the people commanded in the strongest terms that a new plant be built.

Frank T. Mercer.
If it is true, as I am told, that the water mains in the center of the city are too small, I would be opposed to buying the old water works at any price whatever for in that case we would have to tear up the streets anyway. As the officials got good money for the bonds I think they did the proper thing under all the circumstances.

Thos. K. Sutton.
I favor the new works. The bonds were sold at a very fair premium and I am satisfied that the transaction was all right.

T. S. Kinsey.
I think it would be better for the city to buy the old plant, if it could be had for what it is worth, so as to avoid two systems of water supply.

H. C. Bostwick (Jeweler).
If the old Water Works can be bought at a bargain, that is what we ought to do; otherwise we should build new works. I am in favor of municipal ownership and whatever course is cheapest and most conducive to the welfare of the people.

S. B. Frisbie (Contractor).
I am for new water works in and out, and out and out. No use in buying old stuff when you have money to buy what you want. If the Water Works company want to sell out their plant, let them do so all other business men do, name their price. The bond sale suits me exactly. At first it didn't look fair and square. But the more I looked into it the more I was convinced that the officials acted in the interest of the city, and they deserve the highest praise for their wit and skill and devotion to the people's interest. The danger of having two water systems doesn't bother me a little bit, and I don't see why it should bother anybody else except the stockholders and bondholders of the Water Works company.

Dennis Linehan (Shoe Merchant).
So far as I understand the sale of the bonds it was all right. If the old plant could be had cheap enough I would favor buying it, if not we should proceed to build a new one.

Joseph Kuster.
If we could buy the old water works at a fair price, that would be our best policy; but since the company have named no price for their plant, let us proceed to build a new one. The time has come to have a water system adequate to the wants of the city. In my opinion the sale of the bonds was a necessity, as the Water company were fighting for delay so they could force the city either to make a new contract with them or purchase their plant whether we wanted it or not.

Frank Downey.
I would favor buying the old works, if they could be had at a reasonable price; but what's the use of talking about that when they give us no figures? I consider the sale of the bonds all right, and that the city can not possibly suffer any injury from it. The same thing was done some years ago by a Republican council and nobody made a fuss about it.

C. T. Bricker (Druggist).
The people voted on the Water Works question, and that ought to settle it, and close the incident. Let us build the new works, even if it costs $500,000 or $600,000. I haven't looked into the bond sale, so I will not pass on it. But we want water works adequate to the wants of the city.

Ad. Fulk (Grocer).
I favor building new water works and nothing else. The sale of the bonds was all right, as that was the way to secure what the people voted for. Nobody need be scared about two water systems in the city. Let the old plant look out for itself when the city's plant is built, as I hope and believe it will be in the near future.

Dr. Edwin Nichols.
From my standpoint the officials did the right thing in selling the bonds in the manner and at the time they did. I am satisfied they had the interest of the city at heart and that their action will be beneficial to the city and the public.

Joe Green (Steam Dyer).
I am for building a new plant. That's what the people voted for. "No chance left for the Newark Water Works company. The officials did the proper thing in selling the bonds and putting the money in the city treasury so we could proceed to build the new plant."

R. P. Ford.
I would favor buying the old plant on satisfactory terms; and if it was going to buy it, I would give the company twenty-four hours and not a minute more to name its price and guarantee the title.

COURT HOUSE

A SUIT AGAINST SILICA BRICK AND STONE CO.
For Construction of a Road—Cases in Common Pleas—Property Transfers, and Court Notes.

T. J. McDermott and J. T. Crew, attorneys, have brought suit on behalf of the Silica Brick and Stone Company, in which he says that he entered into an agreement with Clarence A. Hill and Samuel J. Pruden whereby it was agreed that the plaintiff was to furnish all the labor and material for constructing a certain line of railroad bed from a point on the Pan Handle near Black Run to the farm of Joseph Evans in Perry township, this county, plaintiff to complete said work in 60 days. Plaintiff says that he duly entered upon the performance of his contract and performed work and labor thereunder for defendant amounting to the sum of $2795.61; that defendant duly accepted said railroad bed so constructed by the plaintiff and has ever since held possession thereof. In the case of Chas. W. Miller vs. L. P. Schaaf et al, Wm. C. Christian, one of the defendants, has filed his answer and cross petition. He admits that the Newark Savings bank company was a corporation duly incorporated under the laws of Ohio, and was engaged in doing a general banking business in Newark, O., but denies all the other allegations and says each is untrue. He asks that the petition be dismissed as to him; that he may recover his costs and go hence without duty. Flory & Flory, attorneys.

THEY BROUGHT TO HIS MIND

The Story of a Young, Briefless Missouri Barrister and His Maiden Sunflower Case.

I was much interested in your recent account of the maiden efforts of the members of the Newark bar, all of whom commenced practice within my recollection, and I was struck by the fact that most of the lawyers lost their first case, or if they didn't, ought to have lost, probably. I have lived to know many of the pioneer attorneys of Newark, including Amos H. Caffee, the great grandfather of our present city solicitor, Israel Dille, the grandfather of ex-City Solicitor F. M. Black, Lucius Case, and others, and although I have had much litigation in my time and may be considered a sort of victim of the lawyers, I am carrying with me to the grave a firm belief in the honesty and uprightness of the lawyers as a class, and take little stock in the venerable jokes and slurs which impute to them a want of the high qualities of manhood. Every few years will appear in the papers that moth eaten conundrum, Why is the lawyer like a rest-less sleeper? with the mirth provoking answer, Because he lies on one side and then turns over and lies on the other. That joke is 250 years old. Then again every little while appears that superannuated picture of the puzzled Irishman standing before the tombstone inscribed: "HERE LIES a lawyer and an honest man," and wondering why they buried two fellows in one grave. This joke is 375 years old, and is immortal, for it has lived, died, been buried and been resurrected hundreds of times. These slurs are a libel on an honorable profession, and should be repressed by an enlightened press. It all shows that a lying joke outlives the truth sometimes.

But, Mr. Editor, in bursting into print after so many years of silence my object is not to emulate the example of my young friend "M. R. S.," but to relate a new and true anecdote of a bright young briefless lawyer who lives in St. Louis, Mo., taken from the report of the case of the City of St. Louis vs. Smith P. Galt, decided a year or so ago by the Supreme court of Missouri.

In picturing to you a summer scene I am not attempting, against the interest of the Natural Gas company, to mitigate the severities of the present winter and thus to render life the more endurable; for I never did think that a man could do without natural gas in winter by reflecting how hot it was last July, nor hold a fire in his hand by thinking of the snowy Rockies, nor satisfy a ravenous appetite by bare imagination of a feast.

These are the facts: Smith P. Galt, born and raised on a farm, is a young and rising lawyer of St. Louis, who had no clients, but did have a vacant lot in the city of St. Louis, which, one summer, was badly overgrown with weeds, which were from four to five feet high and interspersed with a quantity of sun flowers. The neighbors, believing that the high rank growth had a tendency to produce sickness and mar their happiness did, as many Newark neighbors I am sorry to say, occasionally do, invoke the aid of the board of health, which under an ordinance prohibiting growth of noxious weeds in vacant lots peremptorily ordered this clientless chap to harvest his crop before it should go to seed. Here was Galt's opportunity for a case: so he refused to obey the order, was arrested, tried and fined $10 and took his own case to the Supreme court and argued it himself. He boldly claimed that the ordinance violated two sections of the constitution of Missouri and articles 5 and 14 of the Amendments to the Constitution of the United States. He gave the definition of "weeds" as found in the Century Dictionary and in Webster's International and claimed that such handsome plants as the ox-eye daisy, cone flower and the purple cow-wheat may be weeds to the agriculturalist, but are veritable flowers of beauty to the aesthete. The record shows that with truly rural instincts and with a commendable and lively recollection of his recent boyhood days and tastes, Galt in his oral argument before the august judges, eloquently objected to the sufficiency of the evidence by which he was convicted of wrong doing because he claimed that the evidence conclusively showed that one-third of the weeds in his lot were sunflowers, the emblematic flower of the sister state, Kansas, the queen of our mother's garden, the flower that had been immortalized by Moore in these lines:

The heart that has truly loved never forgets,
But as fondly loves on to the close;

As the sun-flower turns to her god, when he sets
The same look that she turned when he rose.

The judges were so carried away by Galt's eloquence that had they not taken the case under advisement, Galt would surely have won, but a month later they announced their decision in a published opinion in which they stated in substance, that if, in the exercise of the police power conferred upon the city by the state, the city had offended against the poetic, the aesthetic or the rustic taste of the defendant or had blurred in even the smallest degree his memory of his boyhood days, then the court should closely scrutinize the act of the city and protect the rights of the defendant. However, the court said that a sober and critical analysis of the evidence failed to convince their impartial minds that either the ordinance or the evidence was leveled at the famous emblematic flower, which was so sacred to Oscar Wilde, to Kansas and to the defendant; that the offense proved would be just the same if the sun-flowers were eliminated from consideration and that if the defendant had obeyed the order of the board of health by cutting the weeds and leaving the sun-flowers, he would probably not have been prosecuted, or if he had, he would have won his case—and so Galt was condemned to pay the $10 fine and stand committed until the fine and costs were paid!

Like many of the Newark lawyers Galt lost his first case, but he attracted so much attention over the state by his eloquent plea that he had no trouble after that to gather in the clients. PLUNK.

Bliss College

Newark, Ohio

WILL RE-OPEN FOR BUSINESS ON Monday, January 2, 1905,

At Which Time a Large Number of Students Will be Enrolled.

The Newark branch of the Bliss Business College is already recognized by the people of this community as a strong factor in business training. The school is elegantly and thoroughly equipped to bring about the desired results and if you are ambitious to succeed in the business world, a commercial training such as may be obtained in this institution will help to place you in the foremost ranks of business success. Below we give a synopsis of the course of study:

ACTUAL BUSINESS FROM START TO FINISH.

The "Bliss System of Actual Business from the Start," of which F. H. Bliss is the author, is taught in this institution, so that students actually learn by doing. Those who enter the Commercial Department will begin buying and selling and actually performing all kinds of business transactions from the first until the last day of the course. Students of this department actually enter into and draw up all kinds of commercial papers used by business men.

The Bliss students are taught bookkeeping by actual business from start to finish. It has been proved by experience that students can learn more bookkeeping by this system in six months than can be learned by old theory methods in twelve.

COMMERCIAL ARITHMETIC.

Sadler's Commercial Arithmetic is being used as a text book in this department. The instruction differs widely from that afforded by ordinary schools, both in method of teaching and matter taught. Prominence is given to those points which are of great importance to the business men.

PRACTICAL PENMANSHIP.

Bliss College has as its teachers of Penmanship one of the best penmen and most successful teachers of writing in America, each student receives one hour drill in penmanship under instruction each morning.

COMMERCIAL PAPERS.

Students actually become a party to, and draw up Checks, Promissory Notes, Drafts, Bills of Sale, Deeds, Mortgages and every kind of commercial paper used by business men.

RAPID CALCULATION.

All students are thoroughly drilled in rapid calculations of all kind, the knowledge obtained by this drill will save him many hours of laborious figuring in the future.

SPELLING.

The text book contains 3500 everyday words, such as are used in ordinary business correspondence.

SHORTHAND.

In the shorthand department we teach a Pitman System, using the Isaac S. Dement version. The teacher devotes her entire time to this section, and all the students' work is carefully graded each day. The Bliss College stenographers are known the state over as highly competent shorthand writers.

BUSINESS LETTER WRITING.

Great stress is given to letter writing in this college, as it is well known that as a rule young people are deficient in this branch.

TYPEWRITING.

The typewriting room is furnished with machines of the best make and supplied with the finest Davis Swivel typewriting chairs, which add much to the comfort of the student. A teacher devotes much of her time to this department, grading all the work as it comes from the machines. Touch typewriting is the method taught.

EVENING SESSION.

An evening session is held three times each week. Those employed during the day can receive the same advantages in this session as in the day school.

A MODEL SCHOOL.

This is truly a model business school in every respect and detail, as the student is surrounded with every convenience for practical business training.

NEW YEAR'S OPENING.

The New Year's opening will occur on Monday, January 2, at which time new classes will be formed in all departments. If you are interested in a business education you should write or call for the beautifully illustrated catalogue. Remember the location.

Trials of Motherhood

355 Broad Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 12, 1903.

I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant racking bearing-down pains in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui.

Then my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after 18 weeks I was well. I am now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine.

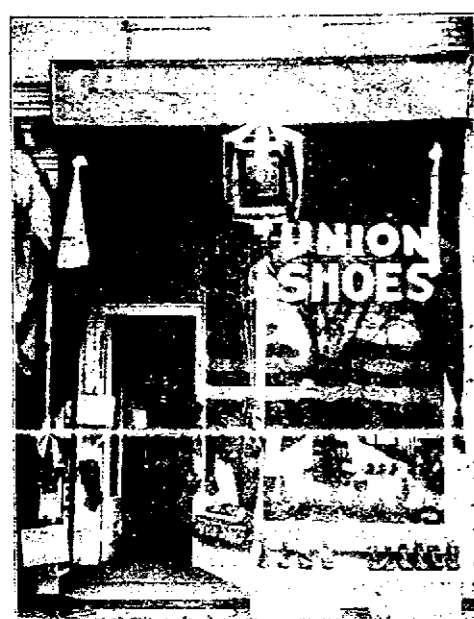

Without it, I would have been a childless, instead of a happy and well mother.

Mrs. Ernestine Nirdlinger
CHAIRMAN, ST. ANDREW'S ASSOCIATION.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the racking pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it?

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

TO JOHNSTOWN

TROLLEY LINE IS TO BE BUILT FROM GAHANNA.

Company Increases Its Capital—H. B. Russler of Johnstown, is One of the Directors.

Columbus, Dec. 31.—The Columbus, New Albany and Johnstown Traction company, has filed papers in the secretary of state's office increasing its capital stock from $200,000 to $600,000, of which $200,000 is preferred stock and $400,000 common stock.

This was determined upon at its recent annual meeting at which the following were selected as the board of directors: George B. Cox of Cincinnati, Daniel J. Ryan, W. D. Brickell, H. B. Russler of Johnstown, L. P. Stephens and Charles E. Carter of Columbus.

The board organized by the election of these officers: President, W. D. Brickell; vice president and general counsel, D. J. Ryan; secretary and treasurer, L. P. Stephens. This road is getting ready for its extension early in the spring; some of the contracts have already been let, among them a bridge over the Big Walnut at Gahanna, which is to be constructed by the Mt. Vernon Bridge company, under contract already closed.

From Gahanna to Johnstown the company owns its private right of way which it has been quietly acquiring for the past two years.

The road has been a success financially from the start and has been carefully and economically managed. It is owned by Cox, Ryan, Brickell and Stephens.

It is the purpose of the owners to bend the road for just sufficient to construct and equip the line from Gahanna to Johnstown, by taking the present value of the present road as preferred stock and giving the bondholders first lien on the whole road.

Rolle's Shakespeare.

Rolle's Shakespeare—Revised Edition. As You Like It. 283 pages. King Lear, 304 pages. King Richard the Third, 329 pages. Romeo and Juliet, 297 pages. Twelfth Night, 245 pages.

Edited with notes by William J. Rolle, formerly Head Master of the High School, Cambridge, Mass. Cloth, 16mo., with illustrations. Price, each, 55 cents. American Book Company, Cincinnati.

As a teacher Dr. Rolle has been constantly in touch with the progress made in the past thirty years, and has been all the while collecting material for this revised edition. The volumes have been entirely reset, and the typography has been much improved. The page has been made smaller to adjust the volumes to pocket use. The notes have been carefully revised, being abridged or expanded as seemed best, and many new ones have been added. Most of the notes on textual variations are omitted, and for those referring to other volumes of the series and to certain books of reference new notes have been inserted, so that each volume is now absolutely complete in itself. Most of the quoted "Critical Comments" have been left out, and for these the author has substituted matter of his own. A concise account of Shakespeare's meter has been inserted in each volume, with illustrative examples from the play. The improvements embodied in this revision will tend to maintain this as the standard annotated American edition.

Miss Zaida Gaines, humorist and impersonator Taylor Hall, Monday night.

Claims Cotton Reports Incorrect.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 31.—At a meeting of a number of ginners of Georgia and Alabama here, two vice presidents were named from Georgia to attend the next convention of cotton ginners to be held in Dallas, Tex. President P. A. Taylor of the National Ginners' association, was present at the meeting and made an address urging the ginners to retain information regarding cotton production. Among other things he said: "The government report of the cotton crop is totally incorrect. These reports are as far wrong as anything I know. Many ginners did not count their bales correctly, often adding many hundred bales more than they had in reality ginned."

The Key That Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund well-fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all druggists.

HORSE RECOVERED

RIG STOLEN SUNDAY NIGHT FROM W. C. HALL.

Man and Woman Charged With Stealing the Rig Are Bound Over by Mayor Crilly.

Mr. W. C. Hall, who had a fine horse and buggy stolen from in front of the Second Presbyterian church on Sunday night, while he and his daughter were attending services at the church, has recovered his property through the efforts of Chief Sheridan. Descriptions of the missing horse and buggy were sent to all of the surrounding towns. On the Monday following the robbery a man and woman who gave their names as Ben and Mary Frank, stopped at a farmer's house about four miles from Steubenville. The farmer recognized the outfit as the one that had been stolen from Mr. Hall, and notified the police of Steubenville, but they failed to do anything in the matter. Later the man and woman drove over to Steubenville and attempted to trade the horse and buggy. The livinman also recognized the rig and notified the police. The parties were arrested and held until Chief Sheridan could be notified. The Chief and Mr. Hall went down to Steubenville where Mr. Hall identified the horse and buggy as belonging to him. Chief Sheridan and Mr. Hall returned to Newark Saturday afternoon, having in custody the parties charged with stealing the rig. They were taken before Mayor Crilly Saturday afternoon, waived examination and were bound over to the Common Pleas court, the man in the sum of $500 and the woman in the sum of $300.

The Charles Lamb Murray Comedy company will conclude its week's engagement at the Auditorium tonight.

NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT.

That perennial favorite comedy-drama "The Katzenjammer Kids" under the management of its producers, Messrs. Blondell and Fennessy, has been engaged to give their inimitable entertainment at the Auditorium on Tuesday, January 3. The company of comedians producing this piece this season is said to be the most capable that has ever interpreted it. An entertainment made up of witty dialogue, catchy music, pretty girls handsomely costumed, high class specialties, combined with a perfect cyclone of merri-merriment, briefly describes "The Katzenjammer" show. The company includes such well known artists as Baker & Lynn, the premier delineators of juvenile comedy; Wally Clark, the popular German comedian; Robinson Sisters, acrobatic marvels; Major Criggle, the tiniest comedian before the public; Day & Vasta, novelty act; William Baker, monologue comedian; Josie Ralston, chic soubrette; Geo. V. Baker, character comedian, and many others equally well known to fame. Seat sale will open Monday.

WHO GOES THERE?

Everyone has heard of Walter Perkins the original "My Friend From India," and few theatre goers who keep up to date, have never seen him submerging an audience in a bath of fun. The little comedian has friends everywhere, he is a clean cut and methodically clean comedian, and he is liked because he is legitimately funny. He is to be seen here Friday evening, Jan. 6, in his new farcical comedy, "Who Goes There?" In this whirlwind of fun as it has been called, Walter Perkins plays the role of a young lieutenant of militia. Everyone who knows Mr. Perkins is aware that as a military figure he must be amusing. Besides that the role calls for the military man to blunder in a peck of trouble. Perkins in trouble has always proven mirth provoking, and in "Who Goes There?" he is said to have plenty of it on his hands, surrounded by a capable company of comedians and attractive girls. All special scenery is used. Seat sale opens Wednesday morning.

UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES. AT THE AUDITORIUM, THURSDAY, JANUARY 5.

"Under Southern Skies," the most successful play of the present day, whose scene is located in the south, occupies a place by itself in Southern drama. For a long period we have had southern plays founded upon one of two subjects, the civil war or the moonshiner. Lottie Blair Parker, the author of "Under Southern Skies" has chosen a different theme and it was evidently a welcome change to theatre goers for they have patronized the play so liberally that it is now playing its fourth season, and everywhere to crowded houses. Mrs. Parker's theme in "Under Southern Skies" is a story of love and of suffering. It moves the spectator to sympathy and tears. But the setting of the story, the manner in which it is told is what constitutes the delightful charm of the play and takes people to see it over and over again. "Under Southern Skies" notwithstanding the tenderness and pathos of its theme is as full of entertainment and laughter as many plays whose only aim is to amuse. So deftly are the laughs mingled with the tears that an effect of pure nature is produced which is as fascinating as it is unusual in plays. A more than usually large cast is necessary to portray the characters in "Under Southern Skies" and each of the twenty-seven people in the drama is especially adapted to his or her part. One of the most attractive features of the production is the Hal-lowe'en celebration and pumpkin dance, which has never been seen in any other play. Managers Johnson & Matthews, ever alert to secure the best attractions for our city, will present "Under Southern Skies" at the Auditorium on Thursday, Jan. 5.

Bellaire Perfectly Contented.

Nearly every station on the lines of the B. & O. is expecting a new station, but Bellaire is perfectly satisfied with existing conditions and would likely interfere if any change were attempted. Railway Claim Sustained.

Cincinnati, Dec. 31.—Judge McNeill of the probate court, decided that the Louisville & Nashville railroad has the right of eminent domain in this city and may condemn property for the purpose of increasing its terminals. The railroad had brought suit for the condemnation of land on three streets, near the end of its bridge, claiming that the land was necessary for proposed new terminals. The contention that the tracks on the bridge into this city were in fact part of the road and that therefore the company had the right of eminent domain as a resident corporation was sustained by the court.

Railway Personals.

Fireman J. L. Euncroft, W. G. Lugeneal and O. S. Carpenter are all unable to work on account of sickness.

Samuel Goldenburg, a well known helper in the B. & O. paint shop, had the misfortune to meet with a very painful accident. He was engaged in sharpening a tool on a grind stone, when one of his hands was caught between the stone and frame, badly mauling one of the fingers.

MR. MOSER

Describes Man Who Tried to Bribe Him

WILL GIVE HIS NAME LATER

Third Ward Councilman Intimates That Man is Known to American Tribune.

To the Editor of the American Tribune:

In answer to your hysterical request for a "description" of the man who I saw offered me "a Christmas present of $500" (his exact language), I will say that I do not think he is a stranger to you. In fact, basing my belief on what he told me alone, he must be a very intimate acquaintance. But then you will be afforded an opportunity in the proper place, and under the proper circumstances to explain all this.

"Did he come to me at night, etc.?" you ask.

He did. He came to my home on the 13th day of December, in the evening.

"What was he like, was he tall, what was the color of his hair, his eyes, etc.?"

Now he was around the office of the American, so 'tis said, and this description ought to bring his picture back to your mind's eye—if you saw him.

He was tall slender, well groomed, and suave; he wore a dark suit, a dark blue overcoat, a derby hat, a light moustache, and he claimed to be a very good friend of yours. Yes, he told me that if we would do what he desired, your paper would make no objection to it, and offered to take me to you to prove it.

Now, from this description do you know him? No. Well, I expect you to say that.

His name? Oh no, not now; his name "and the whole miserable business" will be given to the proper authorities at the proper time. I am advised that it isn't necessary or proper to furnish such information to newspapers before the proper legal authorities receive it.

As to Mr. Veach I do not believe and I have never said that he had anything to do with "the miserable business." I am sure that no city official believes that Mr. Veach has ever attempted to do anything wrong, in this controversy, and I believe that no city official thinks that he would and I don't believe Mr. Veach knew anything about this, for he was away at the time. But I do know that this man made a proposition to us designed to work to the everlasting advantage of the Newark, Ohio, Water company, and to forever squelch any chance of erecting a new water works system, and who in heaven's name, was interested in bringing about this result other than the Water company, and those interested in its welfare?

But, Mr. Editor, why don't you answer my questions?

Why haven't you manhood enough (if you are not bound up with the duties of the Water company) to say in your paper what you said at least to three of Newark's best citizens, that you thought the action of the "Big Five" was all right? Didn't you say this to two lawyers, and to one business man?

Why don't you explain the enigma of the age: How Jesse Flory can foregather with a man he characterized as being "too old to die," "too mean to live," and "too ornery for the devil to take?" This picture, illustrated, would contain more comedy than the celebrated Katzenjammer Kids.

Thanking you for your courtesy to me personally, and on behalf of my constituents in the West End, for your free distribution of papers (American Tribunes) last night, I remain,

Yours very respectfully,

JOS. R. MOSER.

P. S.—I have not been "coaxed" to write this. In fact, I don't remember of being "coaxed" to do anything in this matter. I am standing on my own ground, am taking care of myself alone, and expect others to do the same.

J. M. MAYLONE

TELLS HOW MRS. CHADWICK TRIED TO BORROW $50,000

Former Newark Man, Now Aiding in the Organization of New Bank at Philadelphia.

(Philadelphia North American.) J. M. Maylone of this city is one of the few bankers who was called upon in vain by Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick for a loan.

Mr. Maylone, who is aiding in the organization of the new Textile National bank, formerly was cashier of the People's National bank, of Newark, Ohio. While he occupied that position, Mrs. Chadwick called upon him and endeavored to negotiate a loan of $50,000.

Mr. Maylone, when seen at his home, 2638 North Eighteenth street, said of Mrs. Chadwick's failure.

"One of our Newark citizens went up to Cleveland to live and rented a house that belonged to Mrs. Chadwick. The latter saw some painted china done by an invalid woman of Newark, and she became interested. Mrs. Chadwick came to Newark to see the artist, and bought several hundred dollars' worth of china.

"She also seized the opportunity to call at the People's bank and ask for the president. He was not in, and I said I was cashier, whereat she asked to see me privately.

"We went to the directors' room and she said: 'I wish to make a loan of $50,000 or any part of $50,000.'

"I thought she was 'dippy' and asked her for security. She told me it would be in stocks, and I said that our bank was capitalized at $150,000, and that the rule was never to make a single loan of more than $15,000, and that our total loans was, at the time, about as heavy as we cared to make.

"The woman then asked me if I knew of any lawyers who loaned money or could procure loans. I took her to Albert Stasel, and she retained him to obtain a loan for her, paying him $5. He could do nothing, as his clients only loaned on mortgages, so Mrs. Chadwick got nothing in Newark.

"As I recall her Mrs. Chadwick was a well dressed woman, with plenty of diamonds. She was not prepossessing, and I do not remember her eyes as being anything so attractive or compelling.

"Our interview was brief and I had forgotten the incident until I picked up the North American and saw her picture and the story of her financiering. The picture was an excellent one, and anyone who ever had dealings with the woman would recognize her.

"It was probably fortunate for us that she asked for a $50,000 loan, as the amount of the loan from a small bank convinced me that the woman was crazy and must be humored and turned down. And that was the course I took."

BEAUTY MORE THAN SKIN DEEP.

A Good Complexion Must Come From Within.

It is the natural desire of every ambitious woman to have a clear skin and a beautiful complexion. Outward application of powders can never do more than partially cover up a poor complexion and is apt to ruin the texture of the skin if used persistently. Constipation is responsible for not only the greater part of headaches, biliousness, bad breath, torpid liver, backache and lack of energy but for sallow, muddy complexions as well.

The only right way to remove pimples, blotches and clear up a muddy, cloudy complexion is to go right to the root of the trouble. The one remedy that will cure constipation, improve the complexion, brighten the eyes, quicken the circulation, cure sick headache and insure a clear, velvety skin is Laxakola Tonic Tablets.

So that there may be no possible chance for disappointment, and to protect both you and the druggist, we have agreed to refund the full retail price of 25 cents to Wiles-Firman Drug Co., by issuing a Guarantee Contract authorizing them to pay back your money if the remedy does not benefit you as claimed. 12-3-stf
